City Schools Reopen Sept. 2

Elementary Schools

by Elaine Skolnik

Little red schoolhouses are no longer the fashion at Greenbelt's public elementary schools. New additions at all three schools will be in full operation on opening day, September 2, and no sharp increase in enrollment is expected. The first day will be a full day of school for all pupils with the exception of the children in kindergarten and in the first grade. During the month of September all first graders are scheduled to attend for a half day.

North End

Principal Helene Poland announced that hours for the school year will remain the same - 8:30 to 3 p.m. During the month of September, first graders will be dismissed at 11:30. Morning kindergarten classes are slated from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. and kindergartners in the afternoon will attend from 12:30 to 3 p.m.

Lunch shifts are as follows: third and fourth graders, 11 to 11:30 a.m. cafeteria, 11:30 to noon play area; first (starting in October) and second graders, 11:30 a.m. cafeteria, noon to 12:30 play area; fifth and sixth graders, noon to 12:30 p.m. cafeteria, 12:30 to 1 p.m. play area.

Springhill Lake

The regular school day will run from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Letters have been sent to students notifying them of room assignments and lunch schedules. The new 10-room addition completed late last spring will be in full use for the coming school year. Principal of the SHL school is Mrs. Ethel Golden and assistant principal is Mrs. Shirlee Marks, former teacher at North End School. During the month of September first graders will attend from 9 a.m. - 12. Morning kindergarten hours will operate from 9 a.m. to 11:45 a.m.; afternoon kindergarten from 12:45 to 3:30 p.m.

Center School

Hours for the school year will be 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. During the month of September, kindergartners and first-graders will be dismissed at 11:45 a.m. The afternoon kindergarten class hours are from 12:45 to 3:30 p.m. Lunch-play hours are as follows: first (starting in October), second and third graders from 11:45 a.m. to 12:45 p.m.; fourth, fifth and sixth graders from 12:20 p.m. to 1:40 p.m. Robert Ellis is principal of Center School.

St. Hugh's

St. Hugh's School (first through eighth grades) will open on Tuesday, September 2. The school will operate on a half-day session on Tuesday. Regular hours thereafter will run from 8:30 a.m. to 2:45 p.m. Sister Anne Frederick is the principal.

Junior High School

by Virginia Beauchamp

A school plant big enough for the student body — an estimated 1,173 students—will open its doors to Greenbelt's junior high school set on Tuesday. Completion of a new $1,000,000 addition makes available 15 new classrooms, a new cafeteria, general purpose room and a new library for the Junior High School. Administrative offices have also been relocated in the new wing, extending north from the old building into a redesigned and expanded parking lot.

Last year 1,055 students were crowded into a structure designed to house 800. There were five temporary classrooms and five "floating" teachers—that is, teachers without assigned classrooms. This year there will be no temporary classrooms and no floating

JR. HIGH BUS SCHEDULE

Like last year, buses will pick up passengers at 7:30 a.m. For the first day of school, Sept. 2, students are asked to be at their bus stops about 10 minutes early.

Bus numbers and pick-up points are as follows:

600-Ivy and Lastner Lane
204-Charlestowne Village
217-Crescent & Ridge
216-Crescent & Greenhill
218-Hillside & Crescent
214-Ridge and Plateau
219-Ridge & Research
220-Behind Co-op Store

teachers. A new industrial arts shop, making a total of five, will make possible a new offering to the curriculum — electronics and plastics. A fifth home economics facility has also been added.

The building now consists of four levels, with a sub-basement level, assigned for 8th and 9th grade social studies, added on the down-hill slope below the new cafeteria in the southwest corner of the structure. Mathematics and 9th grade science will occupy classrooms above on the basement level in the new wing. The new cafeteria is placed on ground level in the same section.

Most of the addition and remodeling will be completed when school opens and the remaining work—completion of one industrial arts shop, one or two home economics classrooms, and the library—is expected to be finished by the end of September.

The school is staffed by 63 professional personnel, of whom 13 will be new to the school this year. This constitutes an increase of four staff members over last year's figure. Francis Furgang continues as principal.

School hours are from 7:45 a.m. to 2:40 p.m.

Parkdale High School

by Elaine Skolnik

Within one year of its opening, Parkdale Senior High School is now facing the problem of accommodating an expected enrollment of 2,700 in a school originally constructed for 1,800. To meet this situation, a modified extended school day is planned until the construction of a $1,410,000 addition is completed, hopefully by September 1970. In addition, twelve temporary red schoolhouses will be in use throughout the year to alleviate the overcrowded conditions.

Approximately 740 of the students will be seniors, members of the first class ever to graduate from Parkdale. In addition to the approximately 1,700 students who were there last year, about 1,000 tenth grade students will be entering Parkdale for the first time. All Greenbelt students will now be attending Parkdale. Last year only Greenbelt's sophomores and juniors attended the new school, while seniors remained at High Point.

Shifts

Early shift students, numbering about 350, will report to the school at 8 a.m. and will finish their school day at 2:35 p.m. The remainder of the students will attend school from 8:50 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. The latter time is the same as it was last year.

Dr. G. Allen Sager, principal of Parkdale, stated that students scheduled for the early shift have already received letters giving them instructions about when and where to report. Others are to report to their homerooms. Students are urged to stop by the school to find their names and homeroom numbers posted on bulletin boards in front of the school. Floor plans will also be posted nearby to show where each homeroom is located.

Parking

Because of the overcrowding and also of the new construction which will be going on, parking will be critical. There will be barely enough parking spaces on the school grounds for the 138 teachers and staff members. No student parking will be permitted on the school grounds this year. Those students driving cars will have to find parking spaces along Good Luck Road and other side streets in the vicinity of the school.

The construction of a second two-lane access road to the school will soon be open. The existing road will serve as an entrance, the new road as an exit. Parkdale, located on Good Luck Road south of Greenbelt Park between Kenilworth Avenue and the Baltimore-Washington Parkway, will draw its students principally from Greenbelt, Glenridge, Charles Carroll and William Wirt Junior High Schools.

Addition

The new structure will contain in addition to 16 multi-purpose classrooms two more home economics labs, two industrial arts shops, a biology classroom, an art room, a new library approximately twice the size of the present one and a girls' gymnasium.

The present library will become the band room and part of it will be converted into guidance offices. The present band room will become a vocal classroom, and the present vocal classroom will be remodeled into a drama classroom.

All of the inside remodeling of the existing building will have to wait until next summer after students have left school. However, all of the extensions to the building should be complete by the time school is out.

Apollo 11 and Sen. J. Tydings Star in Labor Day Festival

This year's Greenbelt Labor Day Festival promises to be the biggest and best yet.

Topping off the Festival will be a Labor Day parade through Springhill Lake and the core of Greenbelt. Senator Joseph Tydings will be grand marshal. Afterwards the Apollo 11 film will be shown, free of charge, all day at the Greenbelt Theatre.

County Commissioner Gladys Spellman will be mistress of ceremonies at a big crab feast and old fashioned political rally on Labor Day. You can start eating crabs at the end of the parade until early evening.

Another special food event will be the pancake breakfast, Sunday morning, sponsored by the Greenbelt Lions Club. Show up at 9 a.m. next to "Candy Cane City" to get your hotcakes and sausages.

There is more of everything this year. There are more carnival rides: a Ferris wheel, Octopus, Swinging Gym, Loop o' Plane and four kiddie rides.

More things to eat: barbecue chicken and hamburger, sloppy joes, pizza, meatballs, popcorn and cotton candy.

There are more than 30 booths and concessions — double last year's number. Games will include a lemon squeeze, ring toss, guessing game, jar game, and baseball toss. Other booths will have educational and information displays and sales of miscellaneous items.

Twenty-one contestants are competing for Miss Greenbelt of 1969. There will be four presentations, including the final judging at 9 p.m. Sunday.

Athletic Events

The traditional road races will take place Sunday. Come see the 15 kilometer championship road race for the experts, a shorter "Run for your Life" 2-mile race, and a one-mile run for the ladies.

During the entire Labor Day Festival there will be a men's slow-pitch softball tournament at Braden Field, and Saturday and Sunday, a tennis tournament, also at Braden Field — also, horseshoe pitching on Saturday between the swimming pool and "Candy Cane City." No entry fee.

More aquatic events are being presented at the Labor Day Festival. There will be a family swim relay (mother, father and 2 children on each team) and a clown diving show by the pool guards. The Amateur Athletic Union is sponsoring a diving exhibition.

Special contests on Labor Day start in the afternoon on the grass area behind the Center's statue. They include: a watermelon eating contest, a balloon burst for preschoolers, a diaper derby for crawlers, sack race, 3-legged race for married and engaged couples, bubble gum contest, pie eating contest, limbo walk and a tug-of-war. Ribbon awards are supplied by the Greenbelt Recreation Department; each entrant receives a certificate. Be there 30 minutes before each contest to register. There is also a corn shucking contest Sunday afternoon and a golf chipping contest, Saturday afternoon.

There will be a drawing on Labor Day for the winner of the "Name the first Queen Contestants" competition.

If you're interested in music, the Greenbelt Concert Band performs Monday evening. Also, the Krazy Kats on Saturday evening.

Dancing for the younger set will be provided at the free teen dance Friday night with Jay and the Inspirations. For the Glenn Miller set, a street dance with Harold Domchick and the Melody Men on Saturday evening.

More entertainment on Saturday includes a talent show, mock city council meeting in the city council chambers and a police dog demonstration. There will also be a Karate demonstration.

Special new events this year will be a children's art show with paintings, ceramics and crafts. There will also be a demonstration of a potter's wheel.

Firearms Control

To the Editor:

Mrs. Hensel's letter on firearms control in last week's News Review is interesting and valuable as the contribution of a woman's point of view.

On the other hand, I'd like to bring to your attention one man's opinion: not mine, but that of the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. J. Edgar Hoover writes, in a published statement:

"The easy accessibility of firearms is a significant factor in murders committed in the United States today. It is a problem which the American public needs to examine closely. . . . To my mind, the public has a right to expect that the distributor and the purchaser of weapons so deadly and easily concealed such as handguns must meet certain regulations and qualifications."

Mr. Hoover does not state what "regulations and qualifications" should include. Presumably, they may even vary somewhat according to local conditions. But it is clear that he would be interested in the additional control over violent crime that effective, uniform control of firearms would provide law enforcement officers.

The City Council's Firearms Control Referendum gives every voting citizen the chance to support law enforcement and public safety. In the midst of all of today's talk about Law and Order, here's the place to show what kind of hat your "Law and Order" wears.

RECREATION BOARD ASKS FOR CITY USE OF SCHOOL ATHLETIC PLANT

The city council, at its brief special meeting on Monday, August 25, received a strong report from the city's Park and Recreation Advisory Board regarding the need for developing the proposed senior high school near the Baltimore-Washington Parkway as a school-park complex.

The report delivered by PRAB chairman Hugh Jascourt, charged that the preliminary architects' plans for the five million dollar plus school were adopted by the county school board on May 27 without consulting the city.

PRAB listed several items which it felt would increase city use of the school after school hours and during vacation periods. First, lighting of the athletic fields was suggested. The school board has traditionally preferred to conduct interscholastic sports events during the daytime, and therefore has made no plans to light any portion of the athletic complex.

Jascourt noted that most of the city's activities take place at night. Planned night-time activity is also considered to be a factor in Greenbelt's comparatively small delinquency problem.

Second, PRAB suggested a more central location of the lavatories (which do not open to the outside) so that they will be convenient to more fields than just the football field. A third suggestion was incorporation of storage facilities and an administrative room in the plans. The need to make these facilities accessible to the outside and to be located adjacent to the lavatory room was noted.

Responsible supervised use, Jascourt said, cannot be made without certain minimal indoor storage and administrative accommodations.

PRAB estimated that these recommendations could be adopted at a cost of $84,000 of which $69,400 would be for mercury vapor lighting of the tennis courts, one soft ball field, and two football fields. For the city to duplicate these facilities elsewhere, PRAB said, would cost over $400,000.

PRAB also suggested where the funds could come from. It noted that the county's recreation budget only devotes $5,000 a year to Greenbelt, whereas the city (on a per capita basis) would be entitled to $30,000. PRAB felt that the balance of funds could come from the school board, with the city paying the utility fees and annual maintenance expenses.

PRAB also suggested that, in order to guarantee that the senior high school's athletic fields be used for city recreation, a formal written document be signed by the school board and the city setting forth the respective rights, duties, and obligations of the parties.

The council agreed to take these matters up with the school board. Councilman Francis White suggested that if the school board provided the lights, the city might be able to handle the other needs through use of a trailer.

Parcel I Zoning

The council received a request from the Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission to up-date its recommendations regarding the development of parcel 1 — the land between GHI property and the Baltimore-Washington Parkway. The Technical Staff of MNCPPC is preparing a report on a pending rezoning application requesting R-30 apartment zoning (14 units per acre). The College Park-Greenbelt Master plan calls for retention of part of this parcel for single-family homes. The city was asked especially to indicate its desires with respect to location of the perimeter road and parkland sites.

Insurance Bids

The council gave tentative approval to a low bid by McFarlin Insurance Agency in Riverdale, Md., for its General Liability, Workmen's Compensation and Automobile Coverage. McFarlin, the city's present insurance carrier, had put in a bid of $18,053 (gross premiums).

Election Judges

Josephine Seay was appointed to serve as election judge at North End School, with Jackie Shabe as alternate.

Senator Tydings To Lead Parade as Grand Marshal

Greenbelt's annual Labor Day Parade, led by Sen. Joseph Tydings, will begin at 9:15 a.m. on Monday from Springhill Lake. The motorcade of dignitaries will leave the Community House and will proceed along Springhill Lane to Breezewood Drive, across on Breezewood Drive to Cherrywood Lane to Springhill Drive and Edmonston Rd. and out to Greenbelt Rd. and Kenilworth Ave. The motorcade will then join the main body of the parade at the corner of Research Road and Ridge. From there, the parade continues on Ridge to Gardenway, where it picks up the DECORATED BICYCLE AND TRICYCLE SECTION. The parade then turns the corner and proceeds down Gardenway to Crescent Rd. to the reviewing stand on Centerway.

The American Legion Band and Color Guard will lead the parade, followed by the Mayor and the City Council. Also appearing in the parade will be Honorary Marshals Francis Aluisi, Chairman of the Prince Georges County Commissioners; Walter Maloney, Chairman of Charter Board; William Gullett, Mayor of College Park; William Kirchner and Jay F. Morris as additional honorary marshals.

The Maryland State Senators expected to appear are Steny Hoyer, Royal Hart, Meyer Emanuel, Fred Wineland, Edward Conroy. County Commissioners Francis Francois and Mrs. Gladys Spellman. The other dignitaries will be State Delegates Pauline Menes, Andrew Mothershead, and Arthur Dorman. Also the parade will include the Queen and her court, plus members of the American Legion. Other bands expected to participate are Marine Corps Drum and Bugle Corps and the 324th U.S. Army Band from Aberdeen, Md.

Greenbelters Head PG County ACLU

Two Greenbelt residents have been elected to offices in the Prince Georges County Chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union. Bertram Donn, 19 Woodland Way, is the new Chairman and Allen Lenchek, 2-C Eastway, is the Vice-Chairman. John Brown of Bowie is the Secretary-Treasurer. Other Greenbelt residents on the Executive Board are Rockwell Livingston, 37-D Ridge; the Rev. Perry Smith, 7836 Lakecrest Dr.; Stuart Dvorin, 9012 Breezewood Terrace; Lee Walder, 16 Lakeside Dr.; Jan Turkiewicz, 106 Greenhill and Donald Burns, 5904 Cherrywood Terr.

The Prince Georges Chapter will have a booth in the Labor Day Festival this year. The display will publicize what is meant by civil liberties and the types of activities that the Civil Liberties Union engages in. Literature describing the American Civil Liberties Union will be available at the booth.

LIBRARY GROUP NAMES OFFICERS

Greenbelt Library were elected at a meeting of the executive committee of the group on Saturday, August 2.

Albert K. Herling was named president of the organization with Joel Katz elected vice president. Charles T. McDonald was chosen to serve as secretary of the new organization and Mrs. Leonie Penney as treasurer.

The executive committee discussed the progress of the special collections which the new library will house—one on community planning and another on consumer cooperatives. Initial efforts in connection with the collections are the responsibilities of Charles McDonald for community planning and Seymour Kaplan on consumer cooperatives. Both individuals are engaged in surveying the availability of materials in the fields of their respective assignments.

Officials of the County Library system made it clear that they feel that the start of these special collections should be concerned with the gathering of materials relating to Greenbelt, with possible expansion in the future.

Boxwood Civic Assoc.

Ben Wolman, former Maryland Assistant States Attorney, will address the Boxwood Civic Association at its September meeting.

The public is invited to hear Wolman discuss the problems of narcotics and their effect on our youth at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 2, at the American Legion Hall.

The Greenbelt Co-operative Nursery School is preparing a booth for the enjoyment of young children during the Festival. Pre-schoolers will be able to paint pictures at an easel, as well as see an exhibit of nursery school art work. Photographs of nursery school children will be displayed. There will also be information about the school for interested parents.

Municipal Service Bldg Dedication on Saturday

At a simple ceremony at 11 a.m. on Saturday, August 30, the newly completed Municipal Service Building will be dedicated. Open to the public, the dedication ceremony will be a feature of the Labor Day Festival weekend.

Specially invited guests at the ceremony will be Greenbelt civic leaders and city employees. Following the ceremony guests may tour the building. Refreshments will be served.

The facility consists of two structures, a small office building and a larger warehouse and shop building. Located west of the parking lot for the Lake Park, the structure is screened from Kenilworth Ave. by a decorative fencing. A fringe of trees screens it from Crescent Rd. and from the Lake Park.

An occupancy permit from the County Building Inspector was received about the middle of August signifying satisfactory completion of the building. Underground springs, however, in the parking lot have created problems there in the laying of pavement. For this reason, the city and the contractor have signed an agreement whereby the contractor will correct any problems that should arise within the coming year. This agreement will be a form of insurance against expenses incurred if the problems have not yet been solved.

At the present time city officials do not expect that the Public Works Dept. will move into the new building until some time after Labor Day. Because the summer work program for the Dept. is the heaviest of the year, the moving process was deliberately postponed until after the end of summer. In addition, the new furniture ordered for the office building has not yet been delivered. The Dept. prefers to move all equipment and furnishings at the same time.

TALENT CONTEST

The Talent Contest will be held on Saturday, Aug. 30, and Sunday, Aug. 31, at 7 p.m. The deadline for entering is Friday, Aug. 29. Jack Maffay will act as Master of Ceremonies. The following talented youngsters have thus far agreed to appear: Kim Nicholson, Chris Seallion, Sandy Shock, Floy Boswell, Bonnie Griggs, Leslie Griggs, Lorraine Boushell, Robin Corbin, Christine White, Mark White, Mike Donkis, Kim Robbins, Pat Egan, Glenn Gallo, Mike Cavender, Jim Fahnens, Terry Nelson and Jeanne Nelson.

First and second place cash awards will be awarded each night. Please call: Mrs. Elizabeth Maffay, Talent Chairman, 474-6666.

Greenbelt: A Planned City

The following is reprinted by permission of the Baltimore News American, from the issue of August 17, 1969.

By Mohammed Rauf, Jr.
News American Staff Writer

Greenbelt, a Maryland town begun in 1937 as a work-relief project for depression victims, today is one of the most flourishing communities in the country and is now internationally known.

When the town, 35 miles south of Baltimore, in Prince George's County, was started in 1935, land was selling there for $97 an acre. Today, you'll be lucky to buy the same acre for $16,000.

Its fame rests on twin factors:

- It is one of the very few "garden cities" in the country, planned to the last street corner and the last tree before work on it was begun. As such, it draws town planners from all over the globe to study its layout.

- It is the site of the Goddard Space Flight Center, one of the nation's major hubs in its thrust toward the planets and the stars.

The town is five minutes by car from College Park, where the University of Maryland is located. And so within its boundaries there now lives one of the largest concentrations of Ph.D.s, and M.S. and B.A. degree holders found anywhere in the nation.

ONE RESULT has been that the town is undergoing a construction boom as intensive as anywhere in the state. Apartment complexes are rising up as if somebody were waving a magic wand and a genie is bringing them into existence overnight.

The Springhill Lake Apts., the Greenbelt Park Apts., Charles-towne Village Apts., and the University Square Apts. are some of the construction projects that have reached or are approaching completion.

These projects include both apartments and townhouse types.

IN EACH case, the City Council insisted that natural beauty should not be adversely affected, and so the greenery around each project is untouched.

The mayor and council frown upon high-rise apartment buildings, and when one developer sought to build one, they refused to give him permission for it. But the developer took the case to court—and won.

But it is still hoped that other high-rises will not be built, with their inevitable adverse effect on the town's character, especially its homelike and sylvan setting.

The town is also noted nationally for reducing its taxes almost every year since 1955. In that year it was charging $1.71 for every $100 of assessable property. In 1956 the tax went down by three cents a dollar; in 1957 it was reduced by two cents more, and in 1962 it came down to $1.50 per $100.

"BUT WE INTEND to keep up the trend," said Mayor Edgar Smith. "For fiscal 1969-1970, the rate is down by another five cents, and now stands at 80 cents."

This has been made possible by the influx of more and more taxpayers.

When the town was formally opened in 1937, it had a population of less than a thousand; in 1940 the population stood at 2,831. American entry into World War II brought an influx of 1,000 additional persons, which swelled to 7,704 in 1950.

THE POPULATION remained constant during the 1950s, and in 1960 it was 7,479.

But then Goddard was established in Greenbelt, and now the population exceeds 18,000, and before the end of the century it is expected to be as high as 40,000. Greenbelt is one of the three "green towns" established during the administration of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, the idea being to give useful work to men on unemployment relief, to demonstrate the soundness of town planning, and to provide low rent housing in healthful surroundings for families of modest income.

ALLEN MORRISON, who is now in his 70s, was one of the first to move in. He was given a three-room house, with the rent being $37.50 a month. He has lived in the same house since 1937, and has also served as the town's mayor. Listen to him talk:

"We were a happy community then. We are a happy community now. All of us here are hard-working people, who love our country, who love our town. We work for what we get. Our streets are safe. There is no delinquency here. The crime rate is negligible.

"Walk around the town. See how we keep our homes. You will see every home well-kept. Many are 32 years old, but through good care they are still fine to live in."

MR. MORRISON has much of the town's folk-lore at his fingertips. He recalled these incidents:

"There was a time when people were not allowed to hang out their wash on Sundays and in the evenings. That was because people from other towns were constantly coming to see our town in operation, and the city fathers did not want the visitors to get a glimpse of our wash hanging out to dry.

"Then there was a time when pets weren't allowed. Feelings in the matter were very high. Some people wanted pets, others were against them. A deadlock developed in the council, and the matter went to court, which decided in favor of people owning pets.

"ONE OF OUR city ordinances states that women may not appear in public in short-shorts. Many years ago, a 14-year-old was picked up for this offense, and was fined $5. We all chipped in to pay her fine. The ordinance still stands, though now it is not rigidly enforced.

"And then I remember when our trees used to draw a lot of Japanese beetles, and the city would give 25 cents per quart to each boy who would catch them. The boys would spread a blanket under a tree, shake the trees, and the beetles would fall on the blanket and be popped into bottles. Many boys earned their pocket money this way."

The first settlers formed a corporation in 1952 and bought from the federal government the homes they were living in. It is called the Greenbelt Homes, Incorporated.

ONE YEAR the town's children in the Center School started a junior cooperative to purchase candy, pencils, paper and such. The story was picked up by newspapers all over the country, and the project came to be known as the "Gumdrop Co-op."

The site of Greenbelt was purchased by the federal government from old Maryland families with titles going back to the original grants from the British Crown. The land was no longer of much agricultural value, because it had been over-worked as farmland, especially for tobacco growing, and had ceased to be used for this purpose.

Mayor Smith, easy going, benign and popular, is known for his penchant for retaining the greenery. There are grassy knolls, shady groves, parks and such almost everywhere. The impression is created that one is not walking through a town as such but through a giant park.

MAYOR SMITH is especially interested in maintaining the town's artificial lake. It is spacious, usable for boating and fishing.

Mayor Smith is also very keen on promoting youth activities. There is a very active Youth Center in the city, and also a very large number of public swimming pools, ball parks, and picnic areas.

One outstanding feature of the town is the predominance of children. Mayor Smith said that in certain sections, children outnumber adults 5 to 1.

THE CHILDREN can be seen everywhere, swimming in the pools, romping in the woods, crowding drug stores for ice cream cones. The major roads have underpasses built so that kids may reach the central shopping area safely. These underpasses have been brightly painted in intricate designs by the children.

"The reason for this is that families with a large number of children are especially attracted to our town. We provide them with ample space to grow in," Mayor Smith said.

The city has its own flag, and Mrs. Mary Clare Bonham, who designed it, is as dear to the town's people as Betsy Ross is dear to Americans in general for designing the Stars and Stripes.

THE CITY FATHERS in 1938 held a competition for an appropriate design for Greenbelt's flag. There were 65 entries.

Three meetings of the City Council had to be called before a decision could be reached on the winner.

Mrs. Bonham's design consists of a lone pine tree in green upon a field of white between two broad green stripes. It was unfurled for the first time on the Fourth of July in 1938.

THE TOWN has two movie houses. The Greenbelt movie house, too, is geared to movies for children. It began operating in 1938 with a showing of "Little Miss Broadway," featuring Shirley Temple. Yesterday it was showing "Chitty-Chitty Bang-Bang."

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt used to take a great deal of interest in the town. One of her "My Day" columns was devoted to it. She even contributed to the town a statue of a pioneer mother and child.

The town's city hall was built in 1964. It includes an auditorium where council meetings are held.

GREENBELT is the first town in the state to establish a council-manager type of government. The council itself has four members besides the mayor. The present city manager is James K. Giese.

City fathers are constantly trying to increase the city's recreation areas. Not long ago, they bought additional acres for $500,000 near the lake for extending the parkland. One half of the cost was received from Washington under the Federal Open Space Program.

The crime rate is low. There never has been a murder in the town. There is a 17-man police force under the vigilant and able guidance of Chief William T. Lane.

THE TOWN has two banks, one junior high school, four elementary schools, a volunteer Fire Department, three shopping centers, Lion's Club, an American Legion Post and a Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Food chains like High's, Gino's, Howard Johnson (sic) and others are well represented.

The population has an international flavor. There is a (sic) family from India, as well as Germans, Japanese and Koreans living in the town.

ONE VERY important reason for the town's growth is that four major highways pass through it. They are the Baltimore-Washington Parkway, the Capital Beltway, Kenilworth Ave. which runs into Washington and Greenbelt Ave.

Downtown Washington is only 25 minutes away by car, and so is Baltimore. Adjacent to Greenbelt lie the towns of College Park, Berwyn Heights and Riverdale — the whole forming one of the most rapidly developing areas in the entire country.

In certain parts of Greenbelt, land price is $28,000 an acre. It is increasing year by year. Last year it was $25,000 an acre.

"We are on the go, yes, but at the same time we intend to preserve the town's distinctive flavor. We are a peaceful community, we provide a relaxing atmosphere, we have plenty of parkland, and we intend to keep things that way," Mayor Smith concluded.

Horseshoe Tournament

All entries for the 1969 Labor Day doubles Horseshoe tournament must be in to the Recreation Department or Bryan Blavatt by 9 a.m. Saturday, August 30. Tournament positions will be drawn at random and competition will begin on Saturday, at 10 a.m. Two trophies will be awarded to the members of the winning doubles team upon completion of the tournament at about 2 Saturday afternoon.

The Police Blotter

On August 12, at 5:50 a.m., Moyer's Esso Station on Greenbelt Road was robbed of $102 by an armed bandit who held a handkerchief over his face and shotgun in his hand. The getaway car was discovered on Cherrywood Drive. The owner of the vehicle, a 17-year-old College Park youth, was later found and charged with armed robbery. The case is still being investigated, as one or more other suspects may be involved.

A 49-year-old man was charged with larceny as he attempted to leave the Co-op supermarket with three grocery bags containing 60 cartons of cigarettes for which he had not paid.

On August 15, beginning at 3:30 in the afternoon, three housewives, one on Ridge Road and two on Plateau Place, invited into their homes a white Silver Spring male, 27-years-old, who told them he represented the fashion section of Look magazine. He further stated he was looking for models and that they would receive $50 if their pictures were published in the magazine.

At the first house he asked for a picture of the lady. When she didn't have one, he asked for her measurements. When she said she didn't know them, he asked her to get one of her dresses. As she started to comply, he began to follow her up the stairs. At this point she asked him to leave and he did so.

At the second house he asked for a picture, measurements, and then a tape measure. He was then asked to leave, which he did.

At the third house, he followed the same routine, then asked to use the bathroom. From the bathroom window, he spotted a police car, which the first two ladies had summoned, and attempted to escape through the kitchen window. At this point the third lady called the police. He was apprehended near 52 court Ridge and charged with three counts of soliciting without a license.

Chief William Lane expressed surprise that this person was admitted into each of the three homes, especially in view of last year's unsolved murder of the woman who lived in Glenn Dale. He cautioned people against admitting any stranger into their homes without seeing credentials.

In the parking lot behind the Sports Center a car was spotted moving in the opposite direction on a one-way road. This simple traffic violation resulted in one arrest for assault with a deadly weapon and disorderly conduct, and another for driving under the influence, resisting arrest, and disorderly conduct.

The incident occurred August 17 at 7 p.m., when the operator of the car was stopped, questioned and began to use profane language. A passenger got out of the car and threatened a second officer with a tire iron. Thus, the two arrests ensued and the second person has been sentenced to 60 days in prison. Both persons were adults, one from Riverdale and the other from Langley Park. However, the police believe the latter is living on Crescent Road.

The two new officers, Vogel and Carroll recently added to the police staff, are currently taking the state's mandatory police training course at the Prince Georges County Police Academy.

As a result of an arrest made last August 9, the police feel that they have cleared up several indecent exposure cases which have occurred in Greenbelt Park during the past several months. The arrest occurred after two girls reported seeing a man exposing himself in a parked automobile near Braden Field. The girls went home, reported the description of the man to the police and Officer Ernest Brumley noted the suspect at the park some moments later. The suspect was taken into custody, identified by the girls, and charged with indecent exposure.

In the late hours of August 6 and following into the next morning a number of parked automobiles were vandalized by either having the tires slit or having convertible tops punctured. Most of the vandalism occurred on Ridge Rd., between 16 Court and 71 Court, but other cars hit were parked on Lakecrest Drive, Westway, Lakeside, Hedge-wood Court, Woodland Way, Northway and Lastner Lane. The case is under investigation.

The police are busy notifying all drivers of automobiles with out-of-state license plates of the Maryland Motor Vehicle Law which requires that a permanent resident of Maryland obtain Maryland tags within 30 days and a temporary or seasonal resident must obtain such tags within 120 days. Persons who live in Maryland and own cabs which operate in the District must also have a Maryland registration. Persons who drive cabs which they do not own must obtain a reciprocal sticker. This also applies to persons who drive company cars which are garaged in Maryland. Such stickers do not cost any money and may be obtained from the Dept. of Motor Vehicles. Appropriate forms are available at the Police station. People driving out-of-state cars which belong to a relative must obtain a sticker or a second set of tags. Cars may be registered in more than one state. Special requirements apply to servicemen and students.

A suspicious person was noted by a neighbor in the yard of 56 Court Crescent Rd. The police found a broken window pane but no sign of entry into the vacated house. Later a car, with the keys left in the ignition, was stolen from 2 Court Westway. The car was later found in front of 17 Court Ridge. The two events were connected when the police arrested an 18-year-old Mt. Rainier youth in the Center and charged him with unauthorized use of a motor vehicle.

Chief William Lane notes that it is against the law to leave keys in an unattended car. The owner could be charged with contributing to a crime and the penalty is a fine from $1 to $100.

A rash of thefts from automobiles, particularly tapes and tape players, has been occurring lately and persons are cautioned about leaving their cars unlocked.

American Cancer Society Solicits Volunteers

The making of cancer dressings by volunteers is an important part of the American Cancer Society's Service Program. In Prince Georges County, the ladies of Eastminster Presbyterian Church have made 14,159 dozen dressings in the 16 years they have been meeting. The ladies meet two hours every month to make dressings, which range in size from 2"x2" to 20"x20".

Other articles made by dressing groups include Johnny coats, bed pads, slippers, pajamas, and bed jackets. More volunteers are urgently needed. Anyone interested in volunteering a little of her time for this worthwhile project should contact the Unit office at The Federal Building, Suite No. 8, Prince Georges Center, Hyattsville, Md. 20782, telephone 864-7361.

Reading-Study Course Offered for Youth

The program is individualized and flexible and of particular benefit to students planning to enter college. It is also useful for any student at tenth grade level and above who desires to improve his reading ability or study habits.

A series of programs are available: September 15 through December 15, Mondays from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m.; September 17 through December 17, Wednesdays from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m.; and September 20 through December 20, Saturday mornings from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m.

City Notes

Season pass sales for the municipal swimming pool were down slightly from last year, figures released by the Recreation Dept. have revealed. Although sales of resident family passes were up 7 from last year (527 as against 520), all other categories were down. Sixty-one resident single passes were sold this year, as against 68 for last year. In the non-resident categories, 129 families this year purchased passes as against 136 last year. Only two non-resident single passes were sold this year, as against 11 last year. A complete financial accounting of this season's pool operations will be released later this fall.

This week Pepco is installing new street lights on Crescent Rd. from Lakeside Dr. to Kenilworth Ave. The new lighting was authorized in the budget for the current fiscal year.

The Public Works Dept. has hired two new employees, an equipment operator and a parks crewman. They replace two employees who recently resigned.

Curb and gutter work on Crescent Rd. has been completed by the contractor, though the city's portion of the job—backfilling and grading—is still unfinished. On August 4 the contractor began pouring curb on Woodland Way. He will also be responsible for widening the street there and paving it with a base coat. A final surfacing of the widened street will be laid next year.

Suddenly the Public Works Dept. was called to give attention to the Athletic Club House—first, to repair a broken water line and second, to clean up after smoke and fire damage from two fires set in the early morning hours of August 2. Only minor damage was caused to the building by the fires, which were detected almost immediately by the police; but since the building is being used in the Recreation Dept.'s day camp program, a prompt clean-up was necessary.

The city has been notified that the County is currently seeking a court decree for title to some Boxwood property lying between the Boxwood and Lakewood subdivisions. Originally promised to the city for park purposes by the developers of Boxwood, the property was let go to the County for unpaid taxes. It is understood that the County will give the land to the city once clear title is obtained.

No action has as yet been taken by the city to acquire parcels 7 and 8 as parkland. The hang-up is the difficulty of obtaining the services of an appraiser for the property. The city expected to get two appraisals before starting negotiations with the owners of the properties.

A former Greenbelt Police Officer, Philip R. Coombes, who resigned from the force in December, 1967, to enter a family business in Pennsylvania, is rejoining the Dept. on Sept. 2.

A public hearing before the District Council on a petition by Springhill Lake to rezone a 30.5 acre tract north of the Beltway from R-18 to C-O is scheduled for Sept. 19. The Prince Georges Planning Board at a meeting June 4 approved the rezoning, which would permit the construction of a high-rise office building and motel complex.

Councilman Francis W. White, on behalf of the council, testified on August 21 at a special hearing before an advisory committee to the State legislative subcommittee on classification of cities. White urged that insofar as it is constitutionally feasible, cities should be classified not only by population. Such aspects as type (suburb or individual city) or nature of economic base (resort, industrial, residential) should also be considered, he argued. City Manager James K. Giese is a member of the advisory committee, which is made up of local municipal officials.

Labor Day Festival Is 15 Years Old

The first Labor Day Festival was held in 1955 to raise money for the Building Fund of the Greenbelt Youth Center. The affair was highly successful through the efforts of the many volunteers and the Festival Committee - Vincent Caruso, Henry Brautigam, and E. Don Bullian. They turned over $800 to the Fund.

Many of the events are still being presented, though sometimes in different form. The Popularity Contest, where the winner was selected by penny votes, has been changed to the more usual type of Queen Contest. The Talent Contest and many of the athletic contests still take place but the Fishing Rodeo and the Boxing Bouts are no longer held. The Jitterbug Contest was drastically (?) changed to the Rock and Roll Band Contest which, this year, was dropped in favor of a one-night Teen Dance. The parade, directed by Sgt. Austin Green, was similar to those of the past years. Both Vincent Caruso and Austin Green will ride in this year's parade.

The festival will begin at 2 p.m. on Monday, September 8 at the Hyattsville Branch. Afternoon showings will be from 2 - 5 p.m. and evening showings from 7:30 to about 9:30 p.m. The festival will open at the Oxon Hill Branch on Tuesday, September 9. Interfaith Group To Present Films

The Concerned Interfaith Committee of Greenbelt invites everyone at the Labor Day Festival to see a variety of short films and share in discussion and refreshments. The films will be shown in the Municipal Building in the evenings, Friday through Sunday, and Monday afternoon. They concern the need for sensitivity to other individuals and to our natural environment. Also on display throughout the Festival will be an exhibit on the accomplishments of Negro scientists and artists and Negroes in government. This exhibit was prepared by an inter-religious group in Laurel, Md.

The films to be shown on Friday night are "Unanswered Question," "Neighbors," and "A Chairy Tale." Saturday evening, "Detached Americans" and "The Toymaker" will be shown. "Nothing But a Man," a 90-minute drama about a young Negro man's struggle to live in dignity in a small Southern town, will be shown Sunday evening.
